Art Unit: 2832

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b,e)¹ as being anticipated by Greier et al. Greier discloses the claimed invention at Figs. 3 or 8, with first and second outer electrodes 2,3, and first and second inner electrodes 10, or 4,5. Some of the electrodes are on the same plane, and each has two nonfacing surfaces, each having one surface which faces upwards, or each has a surface which faces downwards, clearly a non-facing relation. In claims 2-4, some of the inner electrodes are formed on the same plane with others on different planes. In claims 5-8, the length has to be one of the other of smaller, greater or equal, as those are the only choices. Or as an alternative, the length is smaller than the width of the varistor if one takes the width of the varistor as the same direction as the length of the electrodes.

3. Applicant's arguments filed 1/14/5 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the Grier electrodes that are on the same plane are in a facing relation to each other. That is not correct. As noted above, the Greier inner electrodes are both facing up, or one surface faces up and the other down, and in either case, the two possible surfaces are nonfacing. This appears just like applicant's Fig. 1, so any distinction is simply not understood by this Examiner.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
